OFFICERS ELECTED.

By the Educational Association at Bowling Green.

DROPPED A CANDIDATE.

Barksdale Hamlett, of Hopkinsville, Succeeds Mr. Henry Rhoads.

Bowling Green, Ky., June 22.—The most important business transacted by the Kentucky Educational Association was the election of officers. The contest for President was close. M. C. McKee, of Frankfort; Barksdale Hamlett, of Hopkinsville; and E. R. Crawford, of Bardonia, were placed in nomination. It was agreed that the candidate receiving the fewest votes should be dropped at the end of each ballot, which resulted in the dropping of Mr. Crawford at the end of the first ballot. On the second ballot, Mr. Hamlett was elected by a majority of seven votes.

M. C. McKee, of Frankfort; Miss Cora Wilson, of Frankfort, and H. H. Cherry, of Bowling Green, were elected Vice Presidents. P. W. Wilson, of Lexington, was elected Secretary, and I. H. Booth, of Olive Hill, Treasurer.

Winchester, Grayson Springs and Louisville extended invitations to the association to meet with them next year.

J. J. Glenn, of Madisonville, and James H. Garrett, of Cadiz, were appointed members of the campaign committee for the Second Congressional district.

The association put itself on record as favoring the county unit control of schools.

Mr. Walker cordially invites all farmers who care to discuss the clover and alfalfa question with Mr. Brand to call, as he will be pleased to give them any information at his command.

KENTUCKY CUTS RATES.

State Commission Order Will Save Shippers $1,800,000 a Year.

Frankfort, Ky., June 25.—The state railway commission last week issued an order for a general reduction of freight rates in Kentucky that will effect a saving of $1,800,000 a year to shippers. The cut in the case of the Louisville & Nashville is 25 per cent. The Illinois Central is also singled out for censure and is forbidden to charge more than the rate fixed for the Louisville and Nashville.

The term of Tillman Albritton, of Mayfield, Auditor's Agent for the state at large by appointment of former Auditor Coulter, expired June 19. The term of Agent Frank A. Lucas, of Paducah, will expire on June 28. He also was an appointed of the late Mr. Coulter.

NEW LAW IS HELD INVALID.

COUNTY JUDGE DECIDES.

Test Made By C. H. Campbell, Representing Chicago Portrait Company.

C. H. Campbell, representing a Chicago portrait company, who is canvassing this county with several assistants, taking orders for enlarged pictures, had the county attorney to arrest him Saturday to test the new revenue law imposing a license on picture enlarging houses who enlarge pictures and sell frames. County Judge Breathitt heard the case Saturday afternoon and held that Campbell and his associates were foreign manufacturers and under the interstate commerce law had a right to sell goods to be delivered in the future without the payment of a license. Campbell produced a decision of the supreme court in a similar case from North Carolina in 1903. Under this decision, the section of the new revenue law bearing on this business is held to be unconstitutional. The city ordinance along the same line is yet to be construed, as it is somewhat different from the state, law imposing a license on the occupation of the individual.

CIRCUIT COURT.

This is the Last Week of the June Term.

The case of the commonwealth against Joe Springfield and Charlie Layne, the negroes charged with shooting and wounding Elihu Dougherty and Ames Haydon several weeks ago, East of the city, was called yesterday. Both sides announced ready and the defendants elected to be tried separately. Layne's case was taken up first and a jury selected. The taking of testimony had not been finished when we went to press.

The jury in the case of Alex Dukes, charged with assault and battery, returned a verdict of guilty and fixed his fine at $25.

Ernest Wadkins and Herman Wiggins, charged with disturbing lawful assembly, were each fined $25 and costs.

The indictment against John Cheaney, charging him with shooting Duncan Veach, was dismissed, Cheaney having previously received a life sentence for the murder of Maud Ellis.

Bessie King was fined $25 on a charge of selling liquor without a license.

Same, k. b. h., fined $25.

Violet Baker, same, same.

This is the fourth week of the term and court will likely adjourn about Friday.

OCTOGENARIAN.

Had Been in the Asylum For Some Time.

W. H. Ham, an inmate of the Western Asylum, died at the institution Friday, aged eighty years. Death was due to exhaustion. He was sent to the asylum for treatment several years ago. The body was shipped to Bardwell for interment.

RESERVOIR LAKE IS FULL.

Heavy Rainfall Of Sunday Filled It to Overflowing.

RAN OVER THE DAM.

All Floating Logs and Trash Carried Off the Surface.

The heavy rains of Saturday and Sunday filled the new reservoir lake, covering 42 acres, to overflowing and the top was cleaned of floating logs and trash, which were carried over the dam. One or two small leaks appeared in the stone work of the dam, but they can be easily stopped. The water is now from 10 to 20 feet deep and the reservoir is a vast lake with enough water to remove every possible fear of a summer shortage. The lake was completed about two weeks ago and the freshet could not have come at a more opportune time. The lake is now ready to be stocked with fish.

CHURCH DIFFERENCES

Lead to the Resignation of Pastor.

Rev. P. B. Grant, pastor of the Salem Baptist church, near Elmo, has resigned, and moved away last week. His last sermon, it is said, was a spirited and somewhat sensational reply to a request for his resignation, presented to him by a committee. A vote was taken and the church sustained the action of the committee.

Floating Balloons.

The big show window of the clothing and shoe department of J. H. Anderson & Co.'s store has attracted hundreds of gazers. They turned loose in the window about 150 inflated balloons and they were kept in motion by electric fans. It is one of the best advertisements seen here for many years.

Dr. Hamilton Resigns.

The Rev. W. W. Hamilton has resigned as pastor of McFerran Memorial church in Louisville, to become head of the Evangelistic Department of the Southern Baptist Church.

Paducah has put into effect an ordinance compelling saloons to close at 12 o'clock at night.

DR. NASH'S VACATION.

Will Spend it Next Month at Norfolk, Va.

Rev. Dr. C. H. Nash will leave this week for the General Baptist Association at Richmond, Ky., after which he will go to Norfolk, Va., to spend the month of July, having been given a month's vacation for the month of July.

Preachers In Demand.

There are just now several very important Baptist pulpits vacant. There are men worthy of them. Yes, but their important fields need them, too. The cry comes from many directions for more ministers of the highest fitness. Consecrated, cultured men, trained to preach and lead is a crying need.—Baptist Argus.

The Weather.

For Kentucky—Local thunder storms Tuesday.

The Courier-Journal gives a list of twenty Louisville authors who have published books of more or less renown.

D. A. McCandless, of Munfordsville, has been appointed Commonwealth's Attorney in the Tenth district, to succeed D. J. Wood, deceased.

Louis Pilcher, editor of the Nicholasville Democrat, was assaulted by footpads at Lexington Tuesday night and relieved of a roll of money. Pilcher was enroute to Oklahoma with several home-seekers.

President Roosevelt is quoted as saying that Bryan will be the Democratic nominee and that Taft is the only man to be put up against him successfully.

A citizen who, by consent, uses the telephone of another is not a trespasser upon the company operating the telephone lines, under instruction given by Judge Clark in the federal court at Memphis.

Representative M. M. Redwine was appointed Judge of the newly created Thirty-second Judicial district by the Governor. He is a brother of Judge D. B. Redwine and Dr. Redwine of the Lexington syndrum.

King Haakon and Queen Maud were Friday crowned, respectively, King and Queen of Norway in the Cathedral at Trondheim. The Danish pair were received with every manifestation of public approval.

Jeff Sterrett's paper at Hawesville, the Plaindealer, was burned last Friday. The building and its contents were a total loss. The damage will amount to $2,000, while only $500 insurance was carried. It is supposed the plant will be reconstructed at once.

Judge D. B. Redwine has resigned from the State Board of Control, to which he was appointed last spring. The Governor states that he has selected the new member of the Board but may not make announcement of the appointment for a few days. Judge Redwine held the two-year appointment in the Board.

John S. Phillips has retired from McClure's magazine and bought the American Magazine, formerly Leslie's Monthly. When Mr. Phillips withdrew from McClure's there went with him Ida M. Tarbell, Lincoln Steffens, Ray Stannard Baker, Mr. Boyden, the managing editor, and others. There had been differences over policies.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75 cents. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Bad Stomach

Lessens the usefulness and mars the happiness of life.

It's a weak stomach, a stomach that can not properly perform its functions. Among its symptoms are distress after eating, nausea between meals, heartburn, belching, vomiting, flatulence and nervous headache.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cures a bad stomach, indigestion and dyspepsia, and the cure is permanent. Accept no substitute.

The war on trust methods has borne some fruit. In the United States District Court at Kansas City Judge Smith McPherson, of Red Oak, Iowa, passed sentence on defendants recently convicted of making concessions and accepting and conspiring to accept rebates on shipments. Judgments in the nature of fines were assessed as follows: Swift & Co., Cudahy Packing Co., Armour Packing Co. and Nelson Morris & Co., $15,000 each; Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, $15,000; Geo. L. Thomas, of New York, $6,000 and four months imprisonment in the penitentiary; L. B. Taggart, of New York, $4,000 and three months in the penitentiary. Attorney General Moody has made a formal announcement of his purpose to prosecute the Standard Oil Company for its discriminations contrary to law. Where the existing statutes are insufficient he will draw on the new railroad rate law for his source of prosecution.

History is making faster in Russia than anywhere else in the world—and it is vital, dead preaching history, too. Vance Thompson in the July Everybody's, brings before you with wonderful art the scenes and incidents of that great national drama, Mr. Thompson was in St. Petersburg for Everybody's when the Tsar died. The Duma is memorial privileges; he was an eye-witness of the death of autocracy; he describes each stage of the "Little Father's" visit to his capital. His study of a peasant and a revolution is distinctly the article of the month.

Cupid has made great inroads upon the teachers of the Cleveland, O., public schools. Within a week more than one hundred young women have been assigned to become brides, and the board of education and the superintendent fear they will not be able to fill the vacancies before the next term begins. "Never before have I ever heard of the public schools becoming a matrimonial agency on such an extensive scale. This breaks all records," the superintendent is quoted as saying.

Governor J. C. W. Beckham Saturday formally announced himself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, to succeed Senator James B. McCreery. Governor Beckham's announcement was in the form of a card which he addressed to the Democratic voters of Kentucky. He said he would interfere in no other race, and expected to make the campaign on a high plane.

In the scrap between Magistrate Hoffman and Gov. Beckham, over the closing of drug stores, cigar stands, etc., in Louisville, the magistrate seems to have an advantage. He fines the violators $2 each and the costs are $4.25. The Governor can pardon the fines but not the costs. The Post figures out that Hoffman can make $30,000 a year by fining the 300 drug stores every Sunday.

Richard G. Ivens, a young reprobate who outraged and murdered Mrs. Frank Hollister, a choir singer in Chicago Jan. 12, and threw her body into a stable lot, was hanged Friday. His crime had a far-reaching effect, adding 120 members to the Chicago police force and starting a great reform movement in the city.

Now that Congress has definitely and finally decided to build the Canal on the lock system instead of on the sea level, the President has given the word for the actual work to begin. It is also announced that the President will make a personal inspection of the route in October.

The talk of a shirt has become a Kansas campaign issue, the farmers demanding the lengthening of the appendage as a boost for cotton raisers.

At Marion, Ind., 21 lawyers have volunteered their services to defend a widow who is making a test case of a law taxing dogs.

STORM SWEEP

Thunder, Lightning, Wind

and Rain Make Things

Very Lively.

STOCK WERE KILLED.

Forty-eight Arc Lights Fail to Shine and the City in Darkness.

The full extent of the damages done by the storms of Saturday and Sunday has not yet been determined, though none seems to have been very destructive to property.

Probably the greatest injury was done to wheat standing in shocks in fields. The windstorm of Saturday uncapped a great deal of wheat, and as the rain came down in torrents it was utterly impossible to do anything towards recapping until after the exposed shocks had been thoroughly saturated, which cannot fail to more or less injure the crops of those who happened to be in the track of the wind. The rain was very heavy, .35 inches falling Saturday.

The rain was general throughout the county, and, barring the injury to the wheat, was of great benefit to the farmers. Tobacco plants were in great need of rain, though there were scarcely any plants to increase the acreage. Corn in some sections began to show need of rain also.

A great rain, wind and electric storm struck the city Sunday morning, and at 11 o'clock, just as the ministers had begun their sermons, the tripartite combination broke loose in all its fury. The deep-toned thunder, lurid flashes of lightning, high wind and sheets of water of attracted more attention than the messages being delivered by the preachers. Some of them, however, notwithstanding the fury of the elements, followed the preachers in their arguments, while a few lost the minister's messages altogether.

Rev. E. H. Bull, during the storm in the morning, stated that he was preaching in a church once when the building was struck by lightning, but he didn't continue his discourse afterwards. This was not encouraging, but his congregation waited with him to the close of his 15-minute sermon. Just after beginning the sermon at night another storm broke forth and people began leaving. Mr. Bull took the sense of the people as to whether or not he should close the service. It was decided to go on with the sermon.

During the sermon Sunday morning the congregation at the Baptist church were disturbed by a stroke of lightning which seemed to have struck something too near about to pieces of mind. Several jumped to their feet, but resumed their seats when they realized nothing had happened. The odor of sulphur was more in evidence than the perfume of violets, heliotrope, apple blossoms, etc.

Dr. Fogarty, at the Ninth-street Presbyterian church, did not let the storms of the morning or evening interfere with the deliverance of his message to his people. He says he usually preaches about 30 minutes, and he generally preaches until he gets through. He probably did not know that he could not be heard all over his large audience room, as one of his members has told us.

During the storm Saturday night a mule belonging to C. H. Matthews, west of Lafayette, was killed by lightning.

Tom Brady, of the same neighborhood, also had a horse killed by lightning.

A mule in the vicinity of Scates' mill was struck and killed by lightning.

A bridge at Salubria was washed from its abutments and carried down stream. We have not learned where the bridge landed.

The greatest loss, doubtless, fell on the city electric light company Sunday night. All the arc lights on the western circuit failed to 'show up,' while many on the eastern circuit did the same thing. Altogether there were 43 arc lights disabled, and people on their way home from church had to almost feel their way. One of the employees of the company said yesterday that the men of the company were the busiest people in town, and it would take some time to repair all the damage done by Sunday and Sunday night's storms.

1.50 (hundredth) inches rain fell Sunday and .35 Saturday, making about 3 inches of rain in twenty-four hours. This is the rain that was predicted by the KENTUCKIAN weather editor last Saturday, and is the heavy precipitation that almost invariably follows the wheat harvest.

The Cumberland Telephone Company has been a heavy loser. Along some of the lines poles were torn to pieces by lightning, fuses burned out and lines knocked down by falling limbs and trees. Mr. Elzie Yancey, local superintendent of construction, says that it will require two or three days hard work to get through repairing.

The Home Telephone Company, however, was more fortunate, and expects to have all its lines in operation to-day. Its heaviest loss, so far as reported, was at Edgote, near Oak Grove. Several lines in the city were put out of business, but have about all been connected already.

Man Says:

"CUTICURA REMEDIES

THE BEST ON EARTH"

"In the year 1899 the side of my right foot was cut off from the little toe down to the heel, and the physician who had charge of me was trying to sew up the side of my foot, but with no success. When he found out that wouldn't work, he began trying to heal the wound with all kinds of ointments, until at last my whole foot and way up above my calf was nothing but proud flesh. I suffered agonies for four years, and tried different physicians and all kinds of ointments. I could walk only with crutches. It is six months ago since I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment for my limb and foot. The first two months the Cuticura Remedies did not seem to work, but I kept on using them both. In two weeks afterwards I saw a change in my limb. Then I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment often during the day and kept it up for seven months, when my limb was healed up just the same as if I never had trouble. It is eight months now since I stopped using Cuticura Remedies, the best on God's earth. I am working at the present day, after five years of suffering. The cost of Cuticura Ointment and Soap was only $6; but the doctors' bills were more like $600. You can publish my name and refer any one to write to me about Cuticura Remedies. I will answer all letters if postage is enclosed." John M. Lloyd, 718 S. Arch Ave., Alliance, Ohio, June 27, 1905.

Large Men.

Men who think they are hard to fit because they are out of the ordinary—can dress as neatly and becomingly as the most perfect tailor's model.

Inexpensively? Yes, extremely so.

It's not the price that makes the fit; it depends entirely on the design and tailoring. Schloss Bros. & Co., of Baltimore and New York, are known the world over as Specialty makers of fine Ready-to-Wear Garments. They have made a study of draping large, stout men and men out of the ordinary proportions.

What we mean by "draping" is not merely "dressing," or "clothing." We mean fitting them perfectly in garments particularly designed to moderate where nature has been profuse and to fit out where nature has been deficient.

In other words, this Schloss clothing not only clothes the figure, but "drapes" it as well,—makes the style of the moment seem to have been especially designed for the wearer.

A trial is all that's necessary to convince you. Come to see us. Try one of these Schloss specialties and you will be surprised to see how well-proportioned and handsomely dressed you can look by simply wearing clothes especially designed by these skillful tailors to fit men of just your build and physique.

Prices are not high! To the contrary, very reasonable, because these celebrated clothes makers cut and tailor these goods in large quantities by the wholesale, and they cost you no more than similar clothes of ordinary size.

We are certain that if you come in and try on one of these suits you will become a permanent patron, and thank us for the suggestion.

Yours truly,

J. T. WALL & CO.

The Cause of Many

Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, dropsy, apoplexy are the result of kidney disease. The kidneys and bladder trouble is allowed to take its course until the blood is full of toxins, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the heart fails and breaks down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful remedy, discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., on every writing mentioning this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

RUSSIA'S PREMIER

WITTE'S SUCCESSOR AS HEAD OF GOVERNMENT.

M. GOREMYKIN'S CAREER—Long an Enemy of the Deposed Premier—Said to Be a Weak Man.

The news in America of the downfall of Witte and his conservative policy for Russia has caused widespread interest, for the Russian diplomat who was the administration of the American people by his able and dignified conduct during the Russian Japanese peace negotiations. Witte's overthrow is accepted in Russia as a victory for the reactionaries, and people in this country are asking what kind of a man is to be his successor. M. Goremykin, the new premier, is not only regarded as a reactionary but the general opinion is that he is not equal to the task of facing the coming crisis. His elevation to the premiership has created amazement. He has long been an untiring enemy of De Witte. He is largely interested in farming, and, in fact, as a milk dealer supplies most of the milk used in St. Petersburg, and has been dubbed "The Milk Dealer."

M. Goremykin is considered a mediocre man and is of insignificant appearance as well as capacity. He wears side whiskers and looks like an English butler. While for some time he has been called a liberal, it was only in contrast with such men as Yul Phebe and M. Siplaguine, reactionary leaders, both of whom were assassinated. He began his career in the ministry of Justice, becoming minister of interior, from which post he was called in 1895 as a protégé of the dower empress, to become minister of the interior. The student troubles were just beginning, and Goremykin proved so lacking in ability in suppressing them that he was removed and M. Siplaguine given his place. Siplaguine was a victim of his own harsh energy, for he was killed by a terrorist bomb.

While Goremykin was minister of the interior he had made a report to the emperor to the effect that the stories of famine and suffering which were said to exist in certain provinces were untrue. De Witte, who then was minister of interior, thereupon issued documents to prove that the conditions in the interior were as bad as they had been represented to be. When confronted with this proof, Goremykin is said to have fallen on his knees before the emperor, to have wept, and to have begged forgiveness. The minister was so overcome that the emperor himself brought him a glass of water.

Goremykin, dismissed from office, turned his hatred of De Witte. He joined the Von Plehve faction, and was a part of the cabal which overthrew De Witte as minister of finance in 1904. He was rewarded with the chairmanship of the agrarian commission. When De Witte became premier he removed his old enemy from office. The wheel of political fortune has turned again, and once more De Witte is down and Goremykin is up. De Witte, unquestionably the biggest man in public life here, goes out unwept and uncomplained, and the triumph of the reactionaries, who hate the liberals and who distrust him. Yet even today it is predicted that when the next great crisis comes the emperor will be forced to summon De Witte from his retirement.

The London Daily Telegraph attacks M. Goremykin as a bureaucrat of bureaucrats, and as the high priest of pigeon holes. Heaviness, cunning and indolence are his main characteristics. He dabbled in company deals, and once he was arrested and prosecuted but it did not seem for the late Von Plehve, who refused to move against him. His appointment is calculated to fill the friends of Russia with greatest apprehension. He is the dull observer can discern that a fatal step has been taken and that serious consequences must be feared.

Expressing an Opinion.

Clyde Fitch was discussing a rather tiresome drama. "It was such a drama," he said, "that a French playwright read the other day before a committee of the French Society of Comedy. "As the author plodded through his second act he heard an odd sound, and looked up to see a gentleman asleep and breathing heavily. "He frowned. "Monsieur!" he cried, "monsieur!" wake up! Please remember, monsieur, that I am reading this play to the committee in order to get their opinion. How can a gentleman who is asleep give an opinion?" "But the other answered, gravely: "Sleep is an opinion."

THE LIPS.

Of White Sisters Meet Lips of the Colored Elders.

New York, June 21.—A novel spectacle of colored elders kissing white sisters was witnessed at the general conference of the Church of God, in session in tabernacle No. 3, Hudson avenue near DeKalb avenue, Brooklyn. It was the ceremony known as the "holy kiss."

Several hundred attended the conference. The church draws no color of line, and about half of those present were colored. Bishop Marsh, the head of the local branch of the church, said that in the last hundred years of white converts had been made in this State. The increase has been so large that he has found it necessary to ordain five new elders.

Many of those present had taken only the first steps leading to admission to the church—the washing of their feet by an elder. The next step was the "holy kiss."

One by one the white converts pressed their lips to those of the white and colored elders and thus the colored converts did the same.

The "holy kiss" is not the only novel feature of the "Church of God." The members have a Prophet, and it is necessary to have the utmost faith in this leader. His word is law in everything appertaining to the church. The followers must contribute 10 per cent of their earnings for the support of the Prophet.

It is said that the church is operating many business enterprises throughout the country, and that it expects soon to concentrate those enterprises in Bellevue, Va., where a "Holy City" will be established.

Mr. Harris has been running engines for 23 years and this was his first accident.

The State College of Kentucky,

LEXINGTON, KY.

The Agricultural and Mechanical (State College) of Kentucky offers the following courses of study: viz. Agricultural, Horticultural, Chemical, Biological, Mathematical, Physical, Normal School, Classical, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Civil Engineering, and Mining Engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Post graduate studies are also provided, leading to a master's degree. Each course of study is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty number nearly fifty professors and instructors.

County appointees receive free tuition, room rent in the dormitories, fuel and light, and if they remain ten months, traveling expenses. The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern.

Graduates from the several courses of study readily find excellent positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the College to supply. The matriculation for the last year was, including Summer school, 815.

Specialists in the necessary number of assistants have charge of each department of natural science. Summer schools are provided for pedagogy, engineering, instruction in science and in arts.

The State College of Kentucky, though bearing hitherto the title of "college," is the only institution in the Commonwealth doing, in any proper sense, university work.

The completion of the College home for young women provides facilities for good board and lodging. It is equipped with all modern conveniences, including bath rooms and room for physical culture. It is heated by steam and lighted by electricity.

An opportunity is thus afforded to young women of obtaining a thorough education in classics, modern language, literature, science, mathematics, logic, metaphysics, history, and political economy.

No other institution in the State offers advantages for education of women at all comparable to those offered by the State College of Kentucky.

The Normal Department will be on a better footing than ever heretofore. Last year's largely increased attendance, with the unprecedented growth of the Summer Normal School, both indicate that an era of prosperity surpassing that of all previous years has opened for the Normal Department of the State College.

Mr. Walter F. Garnett, Agent, New York Life Insurance Co., City.

Dear Sir:—It gives me pleasure to acknowledge receipt of statement of optional settlement on 20-Payment Life Policy, No. 223,593, for $1,500.00, issued at age 35, with premium of $22.50, taken out with you Apr. 29, '96. After having been insured for 20 years, I am offered a paid up policy for $1,500 and a cash dividend of $468.88, or the total value may be withdrawn in cash—$1,215.85, (which is more than I have paid in the 20 years) or a fully paid up policy payable at my death for $2,219.00. The cash settlement of $1,215.85 is equal to Term Insurance at $12.87 per $1,000 and an investment of the balance of premiums with 5 1/2 per cent. compound interest for twenty years. This showing is certainly a creditable one for the New York Life, and I will be pleased to give you my application for $1,000 on the Ordinary Life plan.

Yours very truly, C. E. WEST.

Repainting.

Paint has no protection against the elements, and climatic changes work hard and fast upon it. The best paint will eventually wear down, and the surface will have to be repainted. But when Pure White Lead and Pure Linseed Oil are used the surface is left smooth and free, all ready for the painter to begin his work.

If, on the other hand, a hard, lifeless, inflexible paint (such as zinc and barytes) has been used, it cracks, peels and wears off unevenly, leaving a scaly surface, necessitating the expensive and dangerous process of burning off before satisfactory repainting can be done.

To paint with cheap paint is to repaint at high cost, and too soon.

Those who use

COLLIER Pure White Lead

repaint seldom and at lowest cost.

Send for a booklet illustrating several business applications of actual houses, offices, public buildings, etc., and you will see how Pure White Lead is a gem.

For a month at the Prince of Lichtenstein and the King of Sachsenberg.

Who is there that has not heard of the beauty of the Princess Yola?

And who that has heard will have difficulty in believing that it was to my heart, and not to my ambition, that I fell a victim?

For months I worshipped her from afar, as pious ones worship a saint—reverently, ecstatically.

Too, was my love for her, realizing that while she was heiress to the throne of Lichtenstein, I was but one of the minor satellites of the court.

My princess was chosen by the states of Sachsenberg and Lichtenstein to become the wife of King Heinrich of Sachsenberg. Few were there at the Court of Yola that were not privy to this, and few whom the princess' flat refusal to enter into the alliance did not fill with consternation.

She had never seen the King of Sachsenberg, and she openly vowed that she never wished to see him; that she would not be bestowed like unto a chattel for purposes of state.

Then did it occur to me that happy the princess had already given her heart to another. Could it be, I asked myself, that my errand glances had been heart in vain?

I will not dwell here upon details of our flight, they scarce concern my story. But so well did I conceive that in three days my mistress sat safe within the walls of her castle of Starkenstein. We were prepared for a siege, and I had victualled the place so that a score of people might hold out for a year, if need be.

On the eighth day of our coming to Starkenstein I held parley with one who rode up in hot haste to the very edge of the moat.

From the battlements I inquired on what errand he was come, and in answer he pompously announced that his business was with the Princess Yola of Lichtenstein. Then there came the rumble of a gun beside me, and the princess was at my elbow, gazing down upon that leather-clad clown.

"Who is this, Gerstein?"

"I know not, madame. It pleases him to be mysterious."

Who is there that has not heard of the beauty of the Princess Yola? And who that has heard will have difficulty in believing that it was to my heart, and not to my ambition, that I fell a victim?

For months I worshipped her from afar, as pious ones worship a saint—reverently, ecstatically.

Too, was my love for her, realizing that while she was heiress to the throne of Lichtenstein, I was but one of the minor satellites of the court.

My princess was chosen by the states of Sachsenberg and Lichtenstein to become the wife of King Heinrich of Sachsenberg. Few were there at the Court of Yola that were not privy to this, and few whom the princess' flat refusal to enter into the alliance did not fill with consternation.

She had never seen the King of Sachsenberg, and she openly vowed that she never wished to see him; that she would not be bestowed like unto a chattel for purposes of state.

Then did it occur to me that happy the princess had already given her heart to another. Could it be, I asked myself, that my errand glances had been heart in vain?

I will not dwell here upon details of our flight, they scarce concern my story. But so well did I conceive that in three days my mistress sat safe within the walls of her castle of Starkenstein. We were prepared for a siege, and I had victualled the place so that a score of people might hold out for a year, if need be.

On the eighth day of our coming to Starkenstein I held parley with one who rode up in hot haste to the very edge of the moat.

From the battlements I inquired on what errand he was come, and in answer he pompously announced that his business was with the Princess Yola of Lichtenstein. Then there came the rumble of a gun beside me, and the princess was at my elbow, gazing down upon that leather-clad clown.

"Who is this, Gerstein?"

"I know not, madame. It pleases him to be mysterious."

"But he is wounded!" she cried, a look of pity glorifying her matchless eyes. "And you leave him at the gate!"

The graceless dog, perceiving her, doffed his grey beaver, decked by a broken gossamer, disclosing a face that was very pale.

"Lady," he began, then stopped abruptly. The hat fluttered from his grasp; he sank forward upon his knees, and with his hands clasped in prayer, he begged for mercy.

"See to him, my lord," the princess cried. "He has fainted. Have him brought into the castle."

The wound was a mere scratch, though much blood had flowed, as his sudden sleeve bore witness. With her own kerchief she bound it up.

"Poor lad," she murmured, "he hath lost much blood."

As she spoke he stirred; a sigh escaped him, and he opened his eyes. To find the princess mirrored in them. Then from those eyes of his there flashed with returning consciousness a look of such wonder and bold admiration that my lady's dignity was aroused by it.

My lady's brow grew dark, and stern her eye.

"Come you on behalf of King Heinrich?"

"Nay, your highness, on my own, and a sorry traitor do I hold myself. Yet, madame, that which is a foe to me seemeth to me so foul a thing that I had no longer esteemed myself a gentleman had I, Anthony Von Turgan, not chosen to wear you."

"What is this warning that keeps you a gentleman yet makes you a traitor?"

"Lady, the prince, your father, accompanied by the King of Sachsenberg, is on his way hither with a thousand men."

There was a moment's pause, and white grew the Princess Yola's cheeks.

"But despair not, lady. You may yet escape, leaving your castle garrisoned. Bid your men hold out for a month, and then surrender the empty nest to the prince. But, lady, you must hasten, for he draws near!"

Yola put her hand to her heart, and looked about her with eyes that for a moment told of fear.

"Here will I remain," she said, "until these tyrants shall have starved me. Do you save yourself, sir, and take with you my thanks for your noble effort."

At the princess' command a fresh horse was brought him. In this there was some delay, and when at last he was mounted it was too late. The prince's force was within a couple of hundred yards, and I could not sanction the lowering of the bridge.

With a careless laugh Von Turgan dismounted and flung the reins to a servant.

FACE TO FACE.

A New Problem For Women.

In the looking-glass a woman often sees wrinkles, hollow circles under the eyes, crow's feet—all because she did not turn to the right remedy when worn down with those troubles which are distinctly feminine. Hiccups, lassitude, nervousness, and the pains and drains of womanhood bring such untold suffering that the face is sure to show it.

Every woman, young or old, is well protected from the lines, nervousness, hiccups, and the many symptoms of disease so prevalent among our women—if they will conscientiously take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a safe and sure remedy for the ills of womanhood, because it contains not a particle of alcohol, digitals or any deleterious drugs. Weak women are made strong and sick women are made well by this splendid prescription which was used by Doctor Pierce in his large private practice in the specialty of women's diseases. Every woman troubled in this way should write him about her case, care of Insull's Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney trouble, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and

Southwest

The Land of BIG CROPS and PROSPERITY.

Are you making as much off your farm as you ought? No doubt you are making as much as you can. The trouble is the land costs too much. It takes too much money to buy a big farm, and so you are trying to make a living on a small farm, or perhaps you are renting one and paying a good share of what you raise, in rent. Wouldn't it be better to go where the price of good land is so little that you can own a big farm—where every acre of the ground is working for you and all you raise is paying you good profits?

There are thousands of acres of fertile land in the Southwest along the line of the Cotton Belt Route that can be bought for from $3 to $10 an acre. This land is increasing in value each year.

See the Southwest at Small Cost.

A trip to the Southwest would convince you that your best interests lay in settling there. The trip can be made at very little expense. On the first and third Tuesdays of each month you can take a special

RESTORED HIS VOICE.
Deaf and Dumb Impositor Comes to Grief.

A young fellow named Charles Thorne was run in Friday night by Lieut. Booth Morris. He carried a petition setting forth that he was deaf and dumb, and a poor young man trying to get an education, etc. When arrested his pockets were filled with petitions, numerous signed by those who had made donation of from 10 to 50 cents. The names showed that he had worked Glasgow and other towns. Officer Morris took him to the station and after working with him for half an hour succeeded in restoring Thorne's voice and he spent the rest of the night cursing and swearing in a cell. The next day he had cooled off and when arraigned for trial pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct and Judge Brasher gave him $21 or 21 days on the streets. He surprised the court by pulling out various bills from secret pockets until he had counted out the money. He caught the first train out of town after having his "official documents" returned to him. He could still hear and talk when last seen.
